We are truly sorry that you were unable to demonstrate competence in the 2025 APC. We know the level of sacrifice, discipline and emotional resilience required to prepare for this assessment. Your disappointment is completely valid - but this result is not the end of your journey.

You are not alone. Every year, capable and hardworking candidates fall short on their first attempt. Many of today's highly respected CAs once stood exactly where you are now. They regrouped, refined their approach, and returned stronger - and they passed.

The APC is not a measure of your intelligence, your work ethic, or your potential as a future CA(SA). It is simply one hurdle - and hurdles are meant to be cleared.

“Success never lasts, failure is never fatal.... courage is the only thing that counts” - Winston Churchill

You have already proven your ability:

- You completed your undergraduate qualification.
- You completed your postgraduate qualification.
- You passed the SAICA ITC.
- You survived articles and earned the right to sit for the APC.

That is not failure. That is resilience.

Now the question is not “Am I capable?” The question is “How do I approach 2026 differently?”

At APT, we specialise in helping repeat candidates close the exact gaps that cost them competence in the APC. What separates those who pass on their second attempt is not luck. It is structure, strategy, and focused preparation.

Therefore, repeat candidates who commit fully to a focused preparation plan often return significantly stronger, and many achieve results they did not think possible. You owe it to yourself to process the disappointment — and then make a decisive plan.

Registration for our 2026 APC Programme is now open at www.apcprogramme.co.za. If you are serious about turning this setback into success, we want to be part of your journey.

Your future as a CA(SA) is still entirely within reach. The next move is yours.

- If you have a valid Certificate of Completion for a Professional Programme dated 2024 or 2025, you are still, under current regulations, eligible to write the 2026 APC without further study. However, we believe that a repeating candidate should follow a structured approach in self-development to pass in 2026.
- Our statistics for prior year's repeat candidates clearly indicate that those candidates who participated successfully in our Board Course had far better success rates in the APC when compared to candidates who did not attempt a Programme or who attempted our Programme half-heartedly.
- To optimise your chance of success in the 2026 APC, you should register for our 2026 APT APC Board Course as detailed below.
- Sadly, if your most recent Certificate of Completion is dated 2023, the validity of your Professional Programme Completion has expired, and you will have to complete and pass a Professional Programme to receive a new certificate before being allowed to write the APC again.

Our 2026 APT APC Board Course

Our Programmes are supported by a large team of extremely passionate staff members who are highly skilled at presenting and providing feedback to candidates on a regular basis. We believe in our product. We believe in innovation and have continuously improved our Programme since the inception of the APC. We will continue to do so and are committed to being the professional Programme provider of choice.
